MEETS DEATH BY DROWNING

Former Tamarack Man Loses Life Near Cobalt, Ontario

Mayor Frank H. Schumaker of Red Jacket received a telegram last evening from the Northern Ontario Light and Power company at Cobalt, advising him of the death by drowning of George Rowe, formerly of Calumet. It has been ascertained that the deceased, who was a middle aged man, and who had been a resident of Cobalt but a short time, lived in Calumet for a number of years, and is survived by a wife and four children, William J. George, Emma and May Rowe, who are at present at Tamarack, and one sister, Mrs. Bartlett of Toronto. Details of the accident are very meagre, and it is not known whether Mr. Rowe's death was the result of an accident while at work, or whether he was drowned while swimming or boating. It is probable the remains will be brought back to Calumet for interment.

Rashleigh Inquest.

The inquest conducted by Coroner Fisher last evening to ascertain the cause of the death of the late Robert T. Rashleigh, whose body was found in the swimming pool at the C. & H. baths Wednesday afternoon, resulted in a verdict of death by accidental drowning. The circumstances related by the witnesses were unusual, however, and indicate that death might have been due to natural causes, fainting, heart failure or some other sudden attack, while in the water. It was established that no more than fifteen minutes elapsed from the time Rashleigh was seen clinging to the edge of the pool with his body submerged and his head above water to the time his body was found at the bottom of the pool. Other swimmers in the pool state emphatically there was no outcry and also that after first sinking the body did not come to the surface. They assert that whereas in an ordinary drowning the body fills with water, this was not true in the case of Rashleigh. These circumstances, swimmers claim, are out of the ordinary and may indicate that death was due to a sudden illness while in the water. They may also explain the fact that no one in the pool missed Rashleigh until his body was found. It would be comparatively easy for his head to slip beneath the water unnoticed. The point where Rashleigh's body was found was right at the edge of the pool and no more than four feet away from the ladderway dropping into the pool. It is claimed that had his body risen twice, which swimmers claim is an invariable rule with drowning persons, he could hardly have missed grasping either the edge of the pool or the ladder. In the absence of a post-mortem examination, however, the jury returned a verdict of death by drowning.

The Rashleigh funeral will be held Sunday.

Trammer Meets Death

Joseph Ovnichuk, aged 26 or 27 years, a single man, employed as a trammer at the No. 4 shaft of the C. & H. mine, met death last yesterday afternoon when he was caught beneath a fall of ground while working between the 65th and 66th levels. The victim was engaged in barring down loose rock when the accident occurred.

Coroner William Fisher was notified of the accident and impelled a jury which returned a verdict in accordance with the above.

The deceased had been a resident of Calumet for an extended period and was quite well known among the Slovenian people. He was a member of the St. Barbara and the St. Michael societies. Besides his parents, two brothers and two sisters survive, all of whom reside in his native land.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the St. Joseph's Slovenian church, with interment in Lake View. Both of the societies of which he was a member will attend the services.

ATTENTION.
All members of Laurium Lodge, No. 202, and Charity Lodge 131, Knights of Pythias and ladies and friends are requested to meet for memorial services at Laurium Bank hall at 1:45 P. M. Sunday, June 14.

SCOUT TROOPS ARRANGE CAMP

Older Members Plan to Walk From Calumet to Lac La Belle

Plans have been prepared for a joint camp to be conducted under the auspices of the Centennial Heights and Calumet M. E. Boy Scouts at Lac La Belle during the week beginning July 12. The outing will be a typical one at which the boys will live practical outdoor lives, will engage in the various field maneuvers and drills and will also be given the benefit of religious instruction and services.

According to the plans which are being prepared, the older members of the two divisions will walk from Calumet to Lac La Belle while the younger members will make the trip on the Keweenaw Central road as far as Delaware, walking from that point the remainder of the distance about five miles. The baggage and camp supplies will be transported by way of the Keweenaw Central and stage.

Scout Masters Fred Vincent of the Centennial Heights troop and Herbert Salmon of the Calumet M. E. Troop will be in charge of the camp activities. It is also planned to interest some of the older members of the Calumet M. E. troop, some of whom are approaching young manhood, in boy leadership. Some of these members were in attendance at the recent upper peninsula boys conference at Escanaba and received a splendid training for such an undertaking.

It is possible some of the other scout troops of the county will arrange to camp at Lac La Belle at the same time.
